Universal Studios

International superstar Arnold Schwarzenegger and famed visionary film director James Cameron have once again joined forces to create the world's first four-dimensional, interactive, themed spectacular, "Terminator 2: Battle Across Time," which will become a permanent mega-attraction at Universal Studios Florida beginning in Spring, 1996.

Certain to re-define human sensory perception far beyond the limits of imagination, "Terminator 2: Battle Across Time" re-teams the super-talents of Schwarzenegger, Cameron, four-time Academy Award-winning character/creature creator Stan Winston, and Academy Award-winning visual effects supervisor-director John Bruno. Digital Domain, the preeminent digital production studio ("True Lie," "Interview with the Vampire," and "Apollo 13") and the highly acclaimed production and design talents of Universal Studios' own "cinemagicians," best known for creating the "Back to the Future - The Ride" and "Jaws" state-of-the-art theme-park attractions round out this incredible production team.

"In creating 'Terminator 2: Battle Across Time,' we have literally fielded the finest all-star multi-discipline team possible," said Ron Bension, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of MCA-Recreation Services Group, "guaranteeing our guests at Universal Studios Florida a sight, sound and visceral experience that will literally catapult them dead center into the action with an opportunity to interact one-on-one with The Terminator himself," added Bension.

"The topography of motion pictures continues to change at the speed of light, becoming more and more interactive with audiences across the globe," said Arnold Schwarzenegger. "What we have created with Terminator 2: Battle Across Time is the quintessential sight and sound experience for the 21st century," continued Schwarzenegger, "and that's why I'm back."

"Terminator 2: Battle Across Time" will mark the first time that a feature film's creative production team has joined together to bring a motion concept to life in a theme park attraction," stated Tom Williams, President and Chief Operating Officer of and 'live' action, this attraction will continue Universal Studios Florida's tradition of offering the best in motion picture-based attractions and world-class entertainment."

A multi-billion dollar expansion to be known as Universal City Florida was recently announced, and will occur in phases within the decade. When completed, it will include Universal Studios Florida, an additional theme park named UNIVERSAL'S ISLANDS OF ADVENTURE, an entertainment complex, five themed hotels, expanded film and square feet of convention and meeting space. Universal City Florida will encompass over annually, Academy Award-winning director Steven Spielberg serves as creative consultant to Universal City Florida.

Sea World

"KEY WEST AT SEA WORLD"
To Open By Memorial Day, 1996

Sea World of Florida presents all the excitement, beauty and charm of the United States' southernmost city at "Key West at Sea World," a five-acre salute to the lush, vibrant paradise that is the Florida Keys. Guests are treated to endless possibilities for relaxing or adventuring as they explore naturalistic animal habitats, stroll sandy beaches or enjoy Duval Street-like shops, eateries and entertainment.

Concept - Presented in the light-hearted holiday spirit of a mini-vacation to the islands, "Key West at Sea World" introduces guests to the Florida Keys and its fascinating inhabitants. Here, visitors encounter the islands' ecosystem in ways most never would, even if they travelled the overseas Highway. "Key West at Sea World" combines three animal habitats, "Dolphins Cove," "Stingray Lagoon" and "Sea Turtle Point," as well as spectacularly funky entertainment, sights and sounds to recreate the tropical beauty of the Florida Keys. The experience is designed to nurture conservation of this breathtaking place.

Major Elements - Dolphin Cove - The 2.5-acre naturalistic habitat will be home to a community of nearly two dozen Atlantic bottlenose dolphins. At "Dolphins Cove," rolling breakers cascade onto a sandy beach, and coral formations create tunnels the animals swim through to greet guests in underwater viewing. Above the water, guests meet the Cove's sleek inhabitants through upclose encounters. New at "Dolphin Cove" is a special area where school groups and those on guided tours wade into the surf to interact with the animals.

Sea Turtle Point - Through the years, SeaWorld's

sea turtle experts have rescued, cared for and released hundreds of the threatened and endangered salt-water reptiles. Many, however, receive permanent injuries and become full-time residents of Sea World for care and because they could not survive in the wild. Now, for the first time, park guests are able to see firsthand different types of threatened and endangered sea turtles that so many throughout the world are trying to save. At "Sea Turtle Point," loggerheads, Kemp's ridleys, hawksbills and green sea turtles live in an area complete with sand dunes, natural plants and a pier.

Stingray Lagoon - In all the world's oceans, nothing is more spectacular than a school of graceful rays swimming through the clear water. At "Key West's" "Stingray Lagoon," almost 200 rays will inhabit this ecosystem. The lagoon is expanding to nearly twice its unique and thrilling experiences, guests are encouraged to feed the docile rays, which are cartilaginous fish (related to the shark) that burrow into the sand of shallow coastal waters. A new nursery cove will exhibit newborn rays.

Enjoying one of the most aggressive expansion schedules of any theme park in the world, guests to Sea World of Florida in the past six years have experienced 16 spectacular new shows and attractions, elements in a master plan that encourages visitors to sample the sea's mysteries. In 1995, Sea World premiere "Wild Arctic," the most ambitious project undertaking in Sea World of Florida's history, and also the largest at any of the nine-Anheuser-Busch Theme Parks.

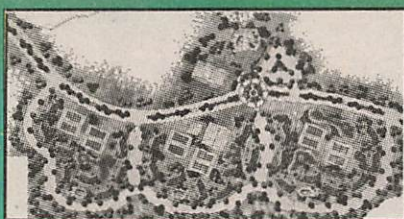

The continued growth expresses parent company, Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc.'s ongoing commitment to providing exhilarating entertainment experiences, unparalleled to none. It also signifies a responsibility to ecotourism - creating unique environments that nurture marine life while instilling in guests a desire to help protect marine environments.

DISNEY

WHAT'S NEW FOR 1996! cont... BUSCH GARDENS TAMPA - COASTERS AND COUNTRY

Visitors to Busch Gardens Tampa can have the thrill of a lifetime by becoming "Kumba Warriors."

First they must challenge the roar of "Kumba" a twisting, snake-like steel track engineered to scare the wits out of you and make you scream with delight at the same time.

It's the African-themed entertainment park's 1993 premiere addition and will begin its reign of terror in April. But there is more in store, including an all-new country music revue and a new resident in "Myombe Reserve: The Great Ape Domain" sure to be called "sir."

The coaster craze has enthusiasts eager to challenge "Kumba," the largest and fastest steel coaster in the southeast.

"Kumba" exceeds speeds of 60 mph, carries passengers more than 140 feet in the air and boosts three "coaster firsts" - a "diving loop," a "camel-back" with a 360-degree spiral and the world's largest loop.

"Kumba" is designed to be exciting to watch as well as to ride, so everyone can enjoy the adventure to the degree his or her nerve will allow.

If your heart sings to a different thrill, stop in and sing along with an all new country music and dance show in the Marrakesh Theatre. "Heart of the Country" has all the latest country favorites arranged with the audiences in mind, and guests naturally will find themselves toe-tapping along.

"Myombe Reserve: The Great Domain" also has something new to see ... about 400 pounds of it. "Lash," a silverback male western lowland gorilla group in this spectacular three-acre outdoor habitat.

His addition to the group completes the final phase in the creation of "Myombe Reserve," and paves the way for behavioral studies and reproduction of this endangered species.

"Lash" has been slowly introduced, or socialized, with the five current residents of "Myombe Reserve" to ensure his successful transition into the group. The original five - three females and two younger males - came to Busch Gardens in April 1992 from Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., where they lived together as a socialized group.

Like people, gorillas have distinct likes and dislikes. Personality conflicts are possible, so introductions are made slowly before a new group member can occupy the same territory with an existing group.

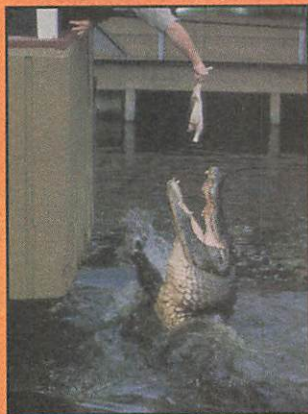

As the ranking group member, "Lash" must be accepted not only for himself but also as the dominant breeding male.

Visitors are sure to delight as "Lash" takes his place in the group. The complete group will encourage natural behavior.

The variety of new attractions at Busch Gardens Tampa enhances all of the other existing delights that await visitors throughout the African-themed park. There is something for everyone, so a day's adventure can be customized to the states of the adventurer. Please see the ad on page 27.

The Remington Shooting School And Outdoor Adventure Comes To Orlando

The Remington Shooting School, based in Ilion, New York has recently announced their newest location at Orlando's world class shooting facility, Blackjack Sporting Clays.

The School, in its second year of operation, has proven to be very popular to both individuals and corporations looking for exciting, alternate outdoor learning programs that offer both a challenge and the enjoyment of learning a new sport. For those who are experienced shooters, the school offers advanced instruction. All students enjoy the four most popular shotgun applications, trap, skeet, sporting clays and wingshooting.

"Shotgun sports are enjoying an increased interest level among people of all ages, and the Remington School offers a three day program that is hard to beat", says Sam Rensi, Vice President.

The unique aspect of the Remington Shooting School and Outdoor Adventure is that it is all-inclusive and offers a tremendous learning program in addition to first class accommodations. Lodging, meals, instruction, shuttle service, targets and ammo are all included, and for a limited time only, Remington is offering a special opportunity to receive, as your graduation gift, a new 12 gauge, Remington 11-87 Sporting Clays Shotgun...for your very own. Remington wishes to put a quality product into the hands of their alumni, hoping that the sport will continue to be an important part of their enjoyment in the great outdoors.

The instructional program involves a classroom period stressing shooting principals and safety in gun handling. The balance of the program focuses on shooting. The friendly staff of instructors are NSCA certified and Remington's R.E.M. Method of instruction insures all graduates the ability to retain what they have learned.

Students wishing to enroll may bring their own gun or use a wide selection of quality Remington shotguns at the club. For information on the Remington Shooting School, call Barbara Kerr at 1-800-742-7053. Please see the display ad on page 56.

WHAT NEW FOR 1996! cont... CYPRESS GARDENS

"WILDLIFE SCULPTURE SERIES"

Twenty-eight life-size animal figures - ranging from a 1,7000-lb. bronze walrus to an eight-foot-high wooden African elephant - inhabit the park's famous original botanical gardens through October 1996. Crafted of bronze, wrought iron, fiberglass, cooper and wood, the $5000,000 collection graces bridges, manicured lawns, waterfalls, canals and lake fringes. All sculptures in this unique outdoor fine art gallery are for sale, with a portion of the proceeds donated to the National Wildlife Federation.

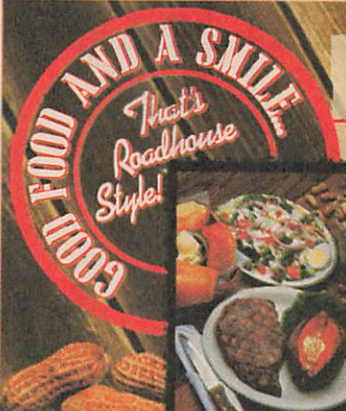

"MOSCOW ON ICE LIVE!"

Direct from Russia, an award-winning troupe of world-class skaters will present a classic ice show in the unique European tradition of showmanship, athleticism and artistry, debuting February 1, 1996. The customized theatrical production will feature authentic Russian costumes and music, distinctive ethnic sets, electrifying choreography and stylish skating champions. The exclusive 60th anniversary year engagement will be staged in the newly renovated Cypress Theatre.

"REPTILE DISCOVERY PROGRAM"

Presented by Bruce Shwedick, noted international crocodilian conservationist and educator, this new educational program will showcase reptiles - some endangered species - in an up-close yet non-threatening setting. Shows, debuting January 1, 1996, will feature turtles, lizards, young alligators and snakes. Audiences will learn about each specimen's natural history, anatomy, behaviors, environmental impact and species preservation. The star of the show, however, is "Banana Boy," a 13-foot-long albino boa constrictor. Additionally, a two-acre expansion area adjacent to the program's Nature's Arena Amphitheater will house non-venomous snakes, South American tortoises, vultures and adult alligators and crocodiles in five new natural exhibits.

*Wishing you and
best for 1996!*

Where to Celebrate 1996!

CHURCH STREET STATION

Don't spend another New Year's Eve at home watching the ball drop from your La-Z-Boy...Church Street Station is the place to be on New Year's Eve! Our New Year's Eve Street Party offers the best reason in town to celebrate in style. For only $29.95 plus tax, you receive a FREE champagne toast at midnight, party favors, noisemakers and an exciting evening of entertainment featuring SIX live bands!

There will be parties going on in all three of our world famous showrooms, plus three of Central Florida's hottest party bands live on the street. Rock into 1996 with: Derek and the Slammers, Rockin' Robin and the Tremors.

Guests can also register to win round trip airfare to London compliments of Virgin Atlantic Airways.

The party begins at 5 p.m., fireworks go off at midnight and we'll be ringing in the new year until 2 a.m. in 1996.

New Year's Eve tickets are on sale at the Church Street Station ticket booth and through Ticketmaster, call (407) 839-3900. Buy your tickets now...last year's party sold out!

PLEASURE ISLAND

It's New Year's Eve every night on Pleasure Island, and the countdown to 1996 will be the biggest end-of-the-year blast ever! Pleasure Island's New Year's Eve '96 pulls out all the stops, from the best in name talent and local entertainment to elaborate dinner and dessert buffets.

Headlining in this year's entertainment is Eddie Money, the rock and roll rebel who brought us "Two Tickets to Paradise" back in his early days and continues to top the charts with his truly distinctive voice. Sway to the great sounds of today as Sophie Be. Hawking performs her current smash hits "As I Lay Me Down To Sleep" and "Damn, I Wish I Was Your Lover". Also on the lineup is the hard rockin' Southern sounds of 38 Special. With a recording career spanning 15 years, 38 Special pumped out such classics as "Hold On Loosely" and "So Caught Up in You." No New Year's celebration would be complete on Pleasure Island without a blowout party band, and The Fabulous Thunderbirds can ring in '96 like no one else. Rock to their all-time hits "Tuff Enuff" and "Wrap it Up" as their blues-style sounds take you back.

Additional entertainment includes the Who, What and Warehouse Improv Company at the Comedy Warehouse, the zany characters of the Adventurers Club, and the heel kickin' sounds of Dave Durham and the Bull Durham Band at the Neon Armadillo Music Saloon. Then, at the stroke of midnight, the Pleasure Island Explosion Dancers come alive on the West End Stage, as storms of confetti and fireworks light up the skies!

Feast on incredible edibles at several elaborate and delectable dinner buffets sprinkled throughout the Island. Prime rib, exotic pastas, fresh seafood, tasty salads and desserts are among the tempting treats. Top it off with a glass of complimentary champagne to toast the New Year! Don't miss the premier party of the year!

Tickets are $90 plus tax and are available at all Central Florida TicketMaster outlets, Pleasure Island ticket booths or by calling (407) W-DISNEY. Guests must be 21 years of age or older. Proper ID required (valid passport w/ photo, foreign, international, U.S. drivers license w/photo, active U.S. military ID). For more information, please call (407) 934-7781.

UNIVERSAL STUDIOS NEWS PARTY INTO THE NEW YEAR WITH UNIVERSAL STUDIOS FLORIDA AND "NEW YEAR'S EVE COAST TO COAST"

Universal Studios Florida rocks in 1996 with its Sixth Annual New Year's Eve party featuring "New Year's Eve Coast to Coast" and the wildest street celebration outside of Times Square highlighted by the music of Boyz II Men, Brownstone, D'Angelo and Gerald & Eddie LaVert, fabulous food, party favors, champagne and non-stop fun! Cheer in the new year with a midnight fireworks extravaganza that blows the top off the country's biggest bi-coastal New Year's Eve bash and illuminates skies and screens from coast to coast.

Where else but at Universal Studios Florida can guests be part of a live studio audience while today's hottest musical acts perform for a national television spectacular. Hosted by E! Entertainment Television's Arthel Neville and Boyz II Men, the show features action from Universal Studios Florida and Hollywood, "New Year's Eve Coast to Coast" will be syndicated to 90 percent of the nation. The party features live broadcast performances by Boyz II Men and Brownstone. D'Angelo, an R&B singer, songwriter and producer, and Gerald & Eddie LaVert, a father and son duo, will tape performances at Universal Studios Florida on December 30 to be replayed on large screens for partygoers at Universal on the 31st.

The "New Year's Eve Coast to Coast" broadcast will feature live "cut-ins" highlighting the sights and sounds at Universal. The bi-coastal celebration builds throughout the night with a comical "Year In Review" show lampooning the biggest newsmakers from 1995. The party culminates with the nationwide broadcast of Universal Studios Florida's fabulous fireworks finale, the most spectacular pyrotechnic extravaganza of the year.

The finale features pulsating lasers and stunning lights gyrating across the sky as Universal's eight-acre lagoon "explodes" with a non-stop array of state-of-the-art fireworks. The excitement peaks when a daredevil boat pilot soars 60 feet over the water and bursts through a 2,000-degree, three-story wall of fire exactly at the stroke of midnight.

For people with explosive appetites, there will be delicious dishes available at Universal's restaurants. Hollywood's "Studio Stars" features a bountiful buffet that's perfect for group gatherings. For partying on a personal level, quiet and romantic dinners are the specialty at Lombard's Landing on Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco. And there's always time between taping for a quick bite at Finnegan's in New York.

The Universal Studios Florida backlot will vibrate with music all night long. Boyz II Men's debut album won two Grammys, three American Music Awards and millions of fans. Their second album features the hit single "I'll Make Love To You." Brownstone's jazz-influenced sounds redefine the phrase soul music. Their debut album "From The Bottom Up" ranges from sincere ballads to funky party jams.

Most of Universal Studios Florida's rides and attractions will be open during the New Year's Eve party. Times quart will seem tame to Universal Studios Florida guests who narrowly escape a "Kongfrontation" in the New York section or an 8.3 "Earthquake, The Big One." Guests also can face the fury of nature's perfect predator at "JAWS" or blast through the space/time continuum on the spectacular "Back To The Future...The Ride."

Don't miss out! tickets for the New Year's Eve party at Universal Studios Florida are available at Ticketmaster locations or at Universal Studios Florida ticket booths. Starting Dec. 18, guests visiting Universal Studios can purchase in-park upgrades good for entrance to the New Year's Eve party after 5 p.m. for $15.95. (Offer is non-transferable and is not valid with complimentary passes.) Florida Resident advance purchase tickets are $24.95 plus tax or $29.95 day-of-event and allow access to the park after 5 p.m. Non-Florida Resident tickets are $37 for adults and $30 for children. Extended operation hours for December 31 are 9 a.m. to 1 a.m.) For more information, call Universal Studios Florida at 363-8000.
